Intuit Names New Leader for Financial Services Unit

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Intuit Inc. (Nasdaq: INTU) today named CeCe Morken, 53, as vice president and general manager of Intuit Financial Services.

Morke succeeds Sasan Goodarzi, 42, who has accepted a position as Chief Executive Officer of Nexant, a privately held firm in the clean energy industry. Since joining Intuit in 2004, Goodarzi has successfully led Intuit's vertical software solutions division, professional tax division and, since 2008, Intuit Financial Services.

"Under Sasan's leadership, Intuit Financial Services has introduced new offerings in the market while strengthening the fundamentals of the business for long term growth," said Brad Smith, Intuit president and chief executive officer. "Sasan assembled a strong management team and clearly defined a winning strategy that is producing tangible results. I want to thank him for all his contributions to Intuit.

"CeCe Morke has a breadth and depth of experience and understanding in the banking industry. Over her many years with IFS, and Digital Insight prior to being acquired by Intuit, she's built strong relationships with valued industry partners as well as key customers and prospects. Her strategic thinking, commercial experience and proven track record of delivering results have prepared her well to lead this business," Smith said.
